EIGHT PAGES.

WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 30, 1908.

Watch the label on your paper, and remember our rule.

The farmers under a protective tariff are satisfied and are all stand-patters.

Mr. Bryan is now appealing to the "young men." Probably he realizes the futility of appealing to those who can remember those "sixteen-to-one" and "cross-of-gold" days.—Chicago Evening Post.

Hugh Frymire is the only outspoken Hearst man we know of in this county. He is red-hot for him. He was formerly a Democrat, but he says that party is on its last legs, and after this campaign it will be a thing of the past. He thinks the Independence League will take its place in the next campaign. Mr. Frymire thinks he will canvass the county in the interest of Hearst and his party.

We have a real live Democratic Club in this town. They have opened up for business in the old Post Office, next to the News Office. Are the Republicans all dead, they must be as we don't hear of them doing anything. They had better get busy. They haven't got as easy a going thing as they think for. We believe Taft could carry this state with the right kind of work. But he'll never do it with the Republicans all asleep. Wake up men and as President Roosevelt says put some ginger into the campaign.

Col. Ben Johnson made a good clean record in his seat in Congress last session. He was in his place at every roll call. He filled it too, as very few men have ever filled it for the first term. He took to it like a duck to water. He was there for business and he did business. Pity we haven't had a man like him there for the past twenty years. Our rivers especially the Ohio would have been in very much better shape we are sure. Ben Johnson is a worker, he's not an idler, a time killer, but a hard worker. He's been a busy man all his life, in public and private walks. And that's the secret of his success. We need such men to look after our interests, and when we get a man like Johnson we ought to keep him there. They do it in other States, why not in Kentucky? Democrats, Republicans, Independents and good citizens who believe in the man and his works should support Ben Johnson. The News intends to do it with a hearty good will.

There is no humbuggery about Mr. Taft. You know just where he stands on every question. His record is an open book. In his speeches last week he stood face to face with the representatives of organized labor, and did not budge from his previous position as a judge in issuing injunctions in industrial cases, and by appealing to the reason of his hearers he won, we believe, a great moral victory; though he did not hesitate to say that he differed with Mr. Gompers, and he characterized the secondary boycott as unfair and unwise in terms which no man could misunderstand. Mr. Taft says:

"It has been sought to give the impression that this record of mine as a Judge shows that I am unfriendly to labor. Nothing could be further from the fact. No one that I know has more sympathy with the laboring man, no one that I know is more anxious for legislation which will enable the wage earner to maintain himself in the struggle for a livelihood and in his relations with a powerful employer. My relations to labor have not been confined to decisions upon the bench. As the executive in charge of the work on the Panama Canal I have had under me for four years upward of thirty thousand laborers. I have had occasion in the Philippines to deal with labor questions there, and I feel very confident that no one at all cognizant of the situation will charge that in my administration of the office of Governor of the islands I was not fully alive to the interests of the laboring men."

The difference between Mr. Taft and Mr. Bryan, is that Mr. Taft has had the practical experience in most every phase of government, we know what he has done and will do. In Mr. Bryan we have only the theory, and promises and all of them are dead issues.

DEMOCRATIC HEADQUARTERS

John S. Ray Will Make a Red Hot Speech Here Saturday Afternoon.

BIG CROWD EXPECTED

James K. Younger, secretary of the Bryan and Kern Club, announces that John S. Ray will speak in this city Saturday at 2:30 P. M. The speaking will take place at the Democratic Headquarters, which are stationed at the old Post Office Building.

Large Attendance

V. G. Babbage was at Hawesville, Monday, attending County Court. Mr. Babbage said there was a large court there and his practice is greatly increasing in Hancock County.

Novel Honeymoon

Mr. and Mrs. Ira Behen returned last Thursday night from Louisville on the eleven o'clock train and left the following morning in their launch for Wyandott Cave. They did their maneuvers secretly and made their arrival and departure without anyone knowing they were in the city.

Spend Sunday in Hawesville

Mr. and Mrs. Noell were the guests of friends in Hawesville, Sunday. Mr. Noell is eighty-six years of age and is one of the most active men in town. He is possibly the oldest man in Cloverport. Mrs. Noell is nearly twenty years younger than her husband. She is improving after a long illness.

Wedding Guests.

Among those from a distance who attended the Plank-Behen wedding were: Mrs. Chamberlain, of Irvington; Mrs. Randall, of Louisville; Mrs. Plank and daughter, Jessie Katherine; Leslie Plank, of Owensboro; Mrs. John Kinchloe and Mrs. Manie Moorman, of Hardinsburg.

ANNOUNCEMENT

Mrs. James Corley announces that her Fall and Winter Millinery Opening will be held Wednesday and Thursday of next week. She will be assisted in displaying her goods by Miss Ashley of Cincinnati. The public is cordially invited to attend both days.

PE-RU-NA RECEIVES PRAISE

For Relieving Such Symptoms as Debility, Backache and Headache.

Mrs. Treasie Nelson, 600 North 5th Ave., Nashville, Tenn., writes: "As Peru-na has done me a world of good I feel in duty bound to tell of it, in hopes that it may meet the eyes of some who have suffered as I did."

"For five years I really did not know what a perfectly well day was, and if I did not have headache, I had backache or a pain somewhere and really life was not worth the effort I made to keep going.

"A good friend advised me to use Peru-na and I was glad to try anything, and I am very pleased to say that six bottles made a new woman of me and I have no more pains and life looks bright again."

There are a great many phases of woman's ailments that require the assistance of the surgeon.

But by far the greatest number of such cases are amenable to correct medicinal treatment.

A vast multitude of women have been relieved from the ailments peculiar to their sex through the use of Peru-na as prescribed by Dr. Hartman.

He receives many letters from all parts of the country relating to subjects of vital interest to womankind.

Of the vast multitude of women Dr. Hartman treats annually, only a small per cent. of them consider it necessary to write to the Doctor at all.

While it is not affirmed that Peru-na will relieve every case of this kind, it is certainly the price of wisdom for every woman so afflicted to give Peru-na a fair trial.

vington, spent Saturday and Sunday with her brother, Emmett Hall.

Mrs. Rebecca Powers and Elizabeth Dunn are visiting relatives at Enos and Owensboro.

FLEET LEAVES AUSTRALIA

Reply of Admiral Sperry to Premier Deakin Route to Manila.

Albany, Western Australia, Sept. 18.—In replying to the farewell message of Premier Deakin of Australia Rear Admiral Sperry says:

The public and private hospitality shown on during our stay in Australia waters has created mutual friendly sympathies and an understanding which years of ordinary intercourse could not have brought about.

Prime Minister James Newton Moore sent a farewell message to Admiral Sperry, regretting that Albany's greeting had not been expressed by greater numbers, but hoping that the welcome of a small community proved that Western Australia's enthusiastic admiration was equal to that of more populous States of the Commonwealth. Admiral Sperry in reply thanked the Premier. He assured him that the reception tendered the Americans would always be remembered appreciatively and sympathetically. He regretted that circumstances prevented their seeing more of Western Australia.—New York Sun.

A Pig's Tale.

You certainly run up against funny things in the country," said the young man who had just returned from up state, where his uncle had a large farm. "On the way up to my uncle's house I had to pass the stockyards, where he kept a lot of pigs. As I passed those hundreds of pigs seemed to be having a regular stampede or panic of some kind—they were rushing madly about, apparently looking for something.

"I watched them for quite a while, but could see nothing but a small woodpecker sitting on the fence. When I got to the house I asked Uncle Jim what on earth was the matter with the hogs. They seemed so excited.

"That so? Well, it was this way—there was a spell back some weeks when I had a bad cold, lost my voice, and couldn't call those critters to their feed, so I got the idea of bringing them to the trough by tappin' my stick on the wooden fence, and ever since then those pesky woodpeckers came around the hogs just go crazy, thinking I'm callin' them to give them something" to eat.—New York Press.

Prominent Dentist Dies.

Leitchfield, Ky., Sept. 23.—Dr. Arnold died suddenly this morning. He had been in delicate health for several months, but was thought to be improving. Dr. Arnold was a son of Prof. W. P. Arnold, a noted educator, of San Antonio, Tex. Besides a wife, who was Mrs. John E. W. Arnold, he leaves a little 10-year-old daughter, and two brothers. Dr. Arnold was well known in Louisville, having attended dental college there. He was a K. of P. and W. O. W., and will be buried by the order at Thomas cemetery.

Dr. Arnold was a nephew of Prof. Arnold who left school here.

Saving The Eggs.

"Why can't I have eggs for supper?" "You can't have eggs for supper," answered the landlord of the Plunkville House, "because my little girl is going to lecture on affluence at the town hall to-night. I presume you have some public spirit?"

He had.—[Southwestern's Book.

Traveling Abroad.

Mrs. James Cuthbertson, of Bowling Green, spent Sunday and Monday here with relatives. Her daughter, Miss Celeste Cuthbertson, who is well known and who has often visited in Hawesville is now touring Europe with a party of Bowling Green friends. Before returning six months hence she will visit the Holy Land and other points of interest in the old world.—Hancock Clarion.

Sends Challenge.

James Madison of near Slaughterville, says he is ready to accept the challenge of W. H. Sick of Silent Run, of the Anthony Herbert family of Carlisle, Ill., or the Samuel Scott of Indiana, or any other man for William Jennings Bryan for president of the United States. Mr. Madison says he is ready to line up forty-eight votes for the democratic ticket in the locality in which he lives. He can furnish eighteen more votes than Mr. Sick. Mr. Madison is 99 years of age and although near the century mark, is an active person for his age and possesses a remarkable memory. He has four sons living. The democratic vote in the Madison family will come of the head of the family and three sons, making four in one son's family, two children and one each in the other two sons families: five sons-in-law, eight

A Hero of the First Class.

Fact is more thrilling than melodrama, sometimes. According to a telegram from Greenboro, Charles May, a freeman on the Louisville, Henderson and St. Louis Railroad, rescued a little negro child from death in a manner as spectacular as it was courageous. The train was going down grade at high speed when the engineer and fireman saw the child on the track. They knew that the reverse engine would not stop soon enough to save the child. The freeman started down the running board and reached the pilot in time to snatch the little negro from the track. In reaching for the youngster's clothing he lost his balance and pitched from the engine. By a lucky chance he did not fall in front of the cowcatcher, and he managed to drag the child into the ditch unharmed. This sort of thing done on the stage for the entertainment and inspiration of audiences fond of the strenuous drama is frequently ridiculed because of its improbability in real life.

Sign of Prosperity.

Dunkirk, N. Y., September 25.—An order for 30 1/2-gauge was placed at the Brooks plant of the American Locomotive company yesterday for delivery in November. Manager MacGarry declined to give the name of the railroad placing the order, stating there were reasons for withholding it for the present.

Why She Was Angry.

Madam," said the nice-looking young man. "I have called to remind you that the premium on your husband's insurance is already overdue."

"I don't care if it is," was the irate answer. "I've told my husband to take a policy in an other company."

"Why, madam? You know our policy is the best."

"Your policy, sir, is a deliberate fraud! My husband's paid your premiums these last seven years, and he isn't dead yet?"

Loafing Acres.

Nearly every year there are a number of acres on the farm that are loafers, that do not contribute enough to the products of the farm to pay for taxes, let alone fencing. The first thing to do with these is to drain them.

Others are stony or gravelly portions which do not, and will not produce sufficient crops to pay for cultivation; and the proper thing to do with these is to sow them to tame grasses, cover them over with barn yard manure, and let them stay in grass. Sometimes a field has been farmed so long that it has ceased to be profitable, and the only thing to do with this is to put it into tame grasses and apply manure heavily.

There are frequently acres on the farm that are out of the way, that could be better be planted to timber of some kind suitable to the neighborhood. Sometimes there are corners in a field cut off by a stream, or so inconveniently located that they cannot be farmed to advantage. The time has now come when we can put these in timber.

In some way or other every acre on the farm should be compelled to do the duty according to its ability. A loafer is wholly unprofitable and in very likely to get into mischief, and loafing acres are no exception. If they are not required to produce some useful crop they will produce weeds, and the seeds will be scattered by some means or other over the entire farm. Don't have any loafers about your house or your barn; and don't have any loafing acres on your farm.—Wallace's Farmer.
